The first real breath of summer.

We are pleased to not by the resume by the Bellows Falls Times that Bellows Falls has taken some long steps forward during the past ten years. It is one of the bustling communities of the state.

Editor Hindley of the Ludlow Tribune has a versatile talent. He appeared on the Ludlow stage recently as the "beautiful lady snake charmer"; and by the fire of his magnetic eye he subdued reptiles of "horrible dimensions." Horrors, Hindley!

The medical adviser to King Edward says that alcohol is a poison, is not an appetizer, hinders digestion, stimulates only for a moment, and its use is inconsistent with any work requiring quick, keen, alert judgment. There are certainly reasons enough for letting it alone.

While speaking at a recent banquet in New York city a Japanese declared that his countrymen were taught to fight as they are fighting by the example of the American colonists. It was left to an American to add that the

One Waterbury minister seems to have started a real live attempt at the enforcement of the liquor law in his community, as the cases which have been brought to the attention of the state's attorney are undoubtedly the result of his activity.

THE NAN PATTERSON CASE.

If the public had been the jury in the case of Nan Patterson, the miserable woman who is now lying in prison on the charge of murder, there would most certainly have been a disagreement, as there was. And it is more than likely that a verdict of not guilty would have been brought in. Never, on the evidence presented at this third trial of the case, would a verdict of guilty have been returned. So far as this great imaginary jury was able to glean of the evidence in the case as shown from the newspaper reports, there was no direct evidence which would convince beyond a doubt that her hand fired the shot which killed her paramour, Caesar Young. There was much circumstantial evidence which appeared to be damaging for the woman, but men hesitate to condemn a fellow human being to death on so uncertain grounds. The district attorney, through his assistants, conducted the case with all the fervor and vigor which characterizes Jerome, and seemingly there was nothing left undone which mind could conceive. And yet there was not enough evidence adduced to warrant a jury in condemning the woman. It will probably be Nan Patterson's last trial.

REPORT NOT ACCEPTED.

plication was referred to the license committee to investigate and report. Mr. Freier, who was present, wanted to answer any questions the license committee might want to ask. The mayor stated the committee would see Mr. Freier later and report at the next meeting.

Alderman McKenzie stated, Messrs. Hyland and Pittsley wanted to sell their water rights above the Orange brook reservoir to the city. The matter was referred to the water committee and city attorney.

Several warrants were read and ordered paid.

The street committee reported Mr. Bradford would sell his two street watering carts for $325, which would include standpipes. The Good Roads Machine company would sell a good cart for $337, or a cheaper one without springs for $290. Alderman McKenzie said one of Bradford's carts was in poor condition, and both needed painting. He would not sell his best sprinker alone, he wanted to sell both together. The matter was referred back to the street committee and mayor with power to act.

The property committee recommended renting the rooms occupied by the Penitential church in the old city building to that society for another year, at $12.50 a month. The report was accepted.

The committee on streets reported the Hensley Co. will sell a machine sufficient to clean Barre's mains for $375. The report was accepted as a report of progress.

A resolution was presented authorizing the supply and fire committees to purchase four fire alarm boxes to be located, one at the corner of Washington and Nelson streets, one at the corner of Wellington and Walnut streets, one at the corner of Farwell and Newton streets and the fourth on Blackwell street near the 5 school building. The four will cost $500. The resolution was amended, cutting off the Farwell and Washington street boxes and was accepted.

The mayor called attention to the entrance to the city hall being blocked evenings by the many men loitering on the steps, and the matter was referred to the police committee to see that it was stopped.

Richard Gibson asked to have city water extended to the corner of Park and High streets. Referred to the water committee to report on.

It was voted to put the old water horse out to pasture.

G. Tomasi appeared before the board about his lunch room license, but the council refused to take any further action in the matter.

The council adjourned and a meeting of the aldermen called, at which the mayor nominated Lester Wright to be a call fireman. He was unanimously confirmed.

Mayor Burke Had His Way.

Burlington, May 6.—Interest in the street department muddle centered about the meeting of the board of aldermen held last night. This was a special meeting called to consider various matters, but those mentioned in the call were not the real issues at stake so far as Mayor Burke was concerned. What he wanted was to get affidavits alleging bribery before the board in a public way. He succeeded in getting the affidavits read, although he had to read them himself. He was opposed in his scheme by President Taft, who summarily adjourned the board after refusing to read the mayor's message. This action on the part of President Taft took the members of the board by surprise, but with the advice of the mayor those who remained reorganized with Alderman Courtney as chairman and proceeded to finish the business of the evening.

The Village Grocer.

"Sparkling with breezy brightness and artistic smoothness" is the verdict of many critics who have witnessed a production of "The Village Grocer," which is the attraction at Barre next Tuesday evening. The play was written expressly for the Queen of Comedy, Kathryn Brayham, by Wm. W. LaPoint, author of "When Women Love." Miss Brayham has appeared in the saucy role of Daisy Hopkins, for more than two hundred nights, and has been offered return dates everywhere. The company supporting the little lady is superior to any popular priced organization seen in Barre this season.

Special scenery is used in the production. Seats are now on sale.

Saturday Sale!

WHITE SKIRTS.

We are ready with another wide-awake proposition for Saturday's business. This time it's White Petticoats, and you know pretty well what a White Skirt sale means here.

The weather does not suggest White Petticoats, but we know the icicles are going off and the Mayflowers will soon be here, and then you will need them.

It's five dozen $1.50 Skirts at 98c each. Do you know of any better way to save 52 cents than to buy them a bit earlier than you want them?

After 6 o'clock, Saturday evening, we will sell ten dozen 15c Children's Hose at 10c per pair

THE STORY OF AN UNWISE MAN.

A news item now going the rounds of the Vermont press states that a Weston, Vt., man lost $900.00 by the burning of his house recently. He had been saving the money to buy a farm and, not having confidence in banks, had kept the money in the house.

No State in the Union has fewer bank failures than Vermont. Our banks, as a rule, are well and conservatively managed. Yet even in Vermont we occasionally see items similar to the one quoted above.

Perhaps the man with a little surplus money will sometime learn that the safest place for his money is a well managed bank. If there are any people in this vicinity who deposit their money under the floor, or in the traditional stocking, we would suggest that they change their deposit to the Granite Savings Bank and Trust Company, Barre, Vt. Interest paid on savings deposits. Correspondence invited.
